THE NOVELTY IRON WORKS.

TO my old friends and the public generally, I am pleased to say, that I am now prepared at my new Establishment, the Novelty Works, to execute in the very best manner, Locomotive and Stationary Engines, Saw and Grist Mills, Mill Gearing, Machinery of every description, Iron and Brass Castings in every variety, Screw Cutting, of any desired length and calibre; having the most improved machinery for the purpose to be found North or South.

I employ none but the very best workmen, and expect to put out none but the very best work.

The Novelty Works are under the exclusive management of a practical Machinist, Mr. H. G. BRUCE, who has no superior as an Engineer and Machinist in any country. This establishment was erected exclusively for the benefit of the Citizens of North Carolina, and I can assure them that they need not go out of the State for anything in the above line of business, as I challenge the World to produce a finer STEAM ENGINE or a better MILL than can be purchased at my establishment.

I am now manufacturing several large and small for Saw Mills to which, and to my facilities for Manufacturing them, I would respectfully, call the attention of the public.

NEW FALL AND WINTER GOODS, FOR 1851-'2.

ISAAC PROCTER, Merchant Tailor, (Successor to the firm of Oliver & Procter) having purchased out the entire interest of Thos. M. Oliver, in the late firm of Oliver & Procter, I avail myself of the very first opportunity to inform the patrons of the said firm of the fact and to solicit from them the continuance of their support. I have just received a beautiful supply of goods, selected by Mr. Oliver, with great care, from the latest importations, mebracing

Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings of every colour dan grade, Dress-Shirts, Under-Shirts, Drawers, Cravats, Handkerchiefs, &c., &c.

In fact, everything usually kept by Merchant Tailors or Clothiers. I shall be assisted by Mr. Geo. L. Gould, an experienced Coat cutter, (and a pupil of Mr. Oliver's —in fact, having been Oliver and Procter's coat-cutter for the last fourteen months.) I shall have charge of the pantaloons and vest department myself, and I have had exclusive charge of it in the late firm for the last five years.

Everything will be done that can be done, to give satisfaction and to render the establishment popular with its patrons. Profoundly thankful for the patronage so liberally bestowed upon us as a firm, I shall endeavor by assiduous attention to business and a desire to please, to merit its continuance.

ISAAC PROCTER.

ALSO,

ON HAND AND AM RECEIVING, daily, a large assortment of CLOTHING, of every description and style, of my own and Northern manufacture—all of which, being made under my own supervision, I can fully recommend. I. P.

Raleigh, Oct 24th, 1851. 103—

To my Friends and Customers in North Carolina.

HAVING made arrangements to leave the State, at furthest by the first of December, and having disposed of my interest to Isaac Procter, (my partner for the last eight years,) I take pleasure in recommending him to those who have stood by me so long, as a gentlemen every way worthy of their confidence and support.

I look upon Mr. Procter, without attempting to disparage others, and what I say now must be believed, (being totally disconnected with him in business) as being the very best cutter I ever saw. He will be assisted by Geo. L. Gould, a pupil of mine, who has been cutting all the Coats made up for our customers for the last fourteen months, and has no superior in that department. I have left in the concern all the patterns I have of my customers scattered all over the State, and they may rely upon being as faithfully served, having their cloths, as well cut and made, and the quality of the materials just such as would be furnished, were 'The BUG,' present in "propria persona." I have laboured hard to build up a business in North Carolina, and desire that those who have patronised me should continue to uphold my late partner, particularly when assured by me, that they will be as well served as they were under the administration of OLIVER & PROCTER.

LARGE SALE, Valuable Real & Personal Property.

Commencing 12th January, 1852.

THE Subscribers, as Executors of the late Richard Hines, offer for sale the very valuable Plantation he died possessed of, containing about 2700 acres, a little over half of which is cleared and in a high state of cultivation. The Plantation is situated on the north side of Tar River, in Edgecombe County, six or seven miles east of the Railroad, and nine miles above Tarborough, adjoining the lands of Richard Harrison, and others. There is on the premises a large and comfortable dwelling with eight rooms and all the necessary out-houses and fixtures of the best kind and in good order.

We will not go into a detailed statement of the superiority of this Plantation, but invite all persons wishing to purchase valuable land to examine this. A plat of the land with a survey of the cleared portions is left in the hands of Mr. Isaac B. Farmer, on the premises, who is well acquainted with it and will give any information to persons wishing to purchase. We will sell it in one tract or divide it into two or three. If not disposed of at private sale, before the 12th of next January, we will, on that day, at 2 o'clock, P. M., on the premises, offer it at public sale to the highest bidder. It has not been necessary for a Physician to visit it during this year.

We will also sell at the same place, one hundred and ninety negroes, of the most valuable kind; among them are three carpenters, (one of these a Wheel-wright,) two Blacksmiths, one painter, three first-rate house servants, (one of them a seamstress,) a good ostler and some of the best cotton-pickers in the Stae.

Also, the Stock and Crop, consisting of about 1500 barrels of Corn, 100 stacks of Fodder, two hundred bushels of Rye, four hundred bushels of Peas, three hundred and fifty fat hogs, 250 out hogs, 68 head of cattle, of the most improved breed.

Among them are many fine milk cows, and nine yoke of young oxen, large and well broke; 1 pair of horses, 1 pair splendid thorough bred fillies, 3 blooded mares, 2 very fine ponies, 150 head of sheep, the seed from near 400,000 pounds of cotton, two Gins, one wheat thrasher, three saddles and bridles, forty casks of plaster and lime, eight wagons, ten carts, thirty-six sides of leather, household and kitchen furniture, and all the farming implements of every description. The sale will continue from day to day until everything is disposed of.

☞ TERMS OF SALE. The land will be disposed of on a credit of one, two, and three years. Bonds bearing interest from date, with approved security, will be required. The other property will be sold on a credit of six months, for all sums over ten dollars; and all under that amount, cash; the purchaser giving bond and security before the property is delivered.

LEATHER FOR FALL TRADE, AT WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

WE respectfully announce to our friends and the trade, generally, that we have determined to spare no efforts on our part to give Petersburg a Leather and Finding Establishment, whose stock shall compare favorably with that of any house, North or South. We are receiving from the importers and manufacturers of the Northern Cities one of the largest and best selected stocks we have ever known in this market, and we pledge ourselves to sell our goods as low as any South of New York, and many articles as low, if not lower, than they are to be had, even there, as we have now in full operation a large and well arranged Tannery, from which we shall be receiving Leather regularly.

We have also Brogans of our own manufacture, which we warrant a superior article.

Also, Shoemakers' Tools and Lasts, together with many other articles usually found in similar establishments, all of which will be sold in accordance with the above statement; and the only way we can prove this, is for purchasers to come and examine for themselves, and we shall be content to abide the result.

THE CONTRAST. I saw a vast multitude of the sick and dying, all fast hastening to death; and I heard a voice say: "There is life for the asking," and there was but one or two of all that great company raised their voices to beg that boon.

I saw a band of weary travellers in a sandy desert, parched with thirst, and I heard a voice saying to them: "There is water for the seeking." "Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters!" and directly in sight appeared a cool and sparkling fountain, gushing from a rock which threw a deep shadow across the "weary land," and but few there were who made the effort to reach the grateful shade of the rock, or to slake their thirst in its waters.

"There is gold for the digging," "proclaims another voice; and thousands of eager questioners cry," "Where—where!" Far far away over the deep waters, across the dangerous passes of the mountain, danger and disease must be braved—but what of all that! there is "gold for the digging," at the end. And how they throng, and press, and crowd, to reach the far off land!

"What shall it profit a man, if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul; or what shall he give in exchange for his soul?"

WAGES OF LABOR. If the enhanced value of slave labor be taken as evidence of increasing prosperity, we of this community may congratulate ourselves with the prospect of a brightening future. Negroes hired on New Year's day for prices higher by 25 to 33 per cent than last year, first rate men bringing from 100 to 155 dollars. This is attributed to the high price of timber in the Wilmington market, the great demand for labor on the various plank roads now in process of construction from this place, and also on the Cape Fear and Deep River improvements, and the increasing production of turpentine in the surrounding country. *Fay. FRUIT CULTURE FOR THE SOUTH.

[Concluded from our last.]

STRAWBERRY.

This favorite fruit is a native of most of the States of the Union, and has been brought to its present high state of perfection by hybridizing and careful culture. The finest Strawberries grown in the universe are of American origin. The people of the South have labored under a great mistake, in supposing Strawberry culture not adapted to the South. I assert, without fear of successful contradiction, that there is no country under heaven better adapted to the cultivation of this fine fruit than the Southern part of these United States. Strawberries may be propagated by seeds, or by runners. Seeds, when new varieties are wanted, and by runners where an established variety is to be perpetuated.

I have no doubt but the principal reason why so many have failed in the culture of the Strawberry here, is, too high manuring. Most of the directions for Strawberry culture, which we get from the North, urge the importance of high manuring. I started the Strawberry culture with Hovey's seedling, manured high, and for four years never had a berry. At length a friend informed me, that, when surveying the Indian lands in Russell county, for the government, that riding a white horse, his legs were frequently stained by the juice of the Strawberries, half way up to the knee. I concluded that if they grew thus wild, that I would try and imitate nature. In the first place, the Strawberry grower must understand the differences between the staminate and pistillate, or in other words, the male and female plants. There are three grades of plants: the entirely staminate or male, the entirely pistillate or female, and the hermaphrodite, blending the staminate and pistillate together. The pistillate varieties are the most productive, when properly impregnated, as every bloom will make a fruit. The entirely staminate produce no fruit at all, and as they produce a great quantity of runners, they are very apt to run out all the fruit bearing vines. The hermaphrodites are good bearers, and answer for impregnators to the pistillates too. In selecting a bed for Strawberries, select a piece of light, porus, rich ground. Plow or spade it well, and any time from October to Febuary, plant out the bed; let the rows be two feet apart, and plant six rows of the pistillate, one foot apart in the row, and now one row of staminate, or hermaphrodite, every sixth row, being the impregnators. Apply no animal manure, but keep the bed well covered with partially decomposed leaves, and every spring dress the bed with ashes, either leached or unleached. Keep down the runners through the fruiting season. It is worthy of remark, that the pistillates, from their enormous productiveness, rarely make runners in the fruiting season. When the bed has become matted over with vines, go over it with hoes and cut the vines up, leaving a stand of healthy vines, at proper distances; leave the vines to decay where they are cut, for they afford the best kind of nutriment to the living plant. When the vines commence bearing, give them copious waterings, which will cause the young fruit to swell and mature; it is very easy to distinguish between the male and female blooms. The staminate being a large, showy bloom, with long stamens filled with a yellow dust, or pollen; whilst the pistillate is a small unpretending flower, without stamen or pollen, but with a simple stigma. It is observed of the pistillate kinds, that they bear much thicker planting than the staminate; frequently producing enormous crops of fine fruit, when the vines are matted together; but the season must prove a wet one to insure this. It is better to keep them worked out, and clean. I have had the Hovey's seedling to produce fruit ten months in the year, cultivated on this mulching principle, and in all the list of Strawberries which I have ever tried, I have never found any to compare with the Hovey seedling, when impregnated with the large early scarlet. There are other varieties that are just as good as the early scarlet, to impregnate with, for the common Strawberry season; but as the early scarlet, like the Hovey, is almost a constant bloomer, it keeps the pistillates in constant bearing. There is a great difference in Strawberry plants standing the droughts of our hot summers.

I have had the British Queen and Myatt's Pine, two fine varieties, perfectly killed by drought; when the Hovey's seedling, and Ross Phœnix did not even wilt. Strawberry roots will penetrate the ground from eighteen inches to two feet, and have been known to go down as far as five feet. This shows the importance of a porous soil, as they draw much nourishment from the sub-soil. There are some called monthly Strawberries, and some early Strawberries; but the Hovey's seedling will bear as early in the Spring as the frost will permit it, blooming every warm day after January, and will continue in bearing until the dry weather of summer parches up the vines. Taking altogether, for size, productiveness, flavor, safety in transportation, and its admirable adaptation to our climate, there is no Strawberry to compare with Hovey's seedling.

RASPBERRY.

This favorite fruit is also a native of this country, and probably originated in the bramble. There are many varieties cultivated. The common Raspberry is easy of culture and propagation. It requires a rich light soil, and in this climate, shade to the roots. It may be propagated by seeds, layers, cuttings or suckers. Raspberry canes acquire some support of a trellis kind, or they may be planted three canes in a clump, and as they come into bearing, tie the tops together, and they support each other. In the winter, cut out all the dead wood, and work in some good leaf mould from the woods, around the roots. There have been some great improvements in the Raspberry of late years. The Antwerp, and the Fallstaff, are very superior varieties, but are extremely delicate, and will not bear our hot suns without some protection. Especially must the ground be mulched around the roots, and a moist location selected for them. Where these provisions are attended to, fruit of monstrous size, and exquisite flavor, will be the reward; in other respects, propagation and culture, like the common Raspberry.

THE ENSUING CAMPAIGN. The first blast from the Democratic bugle in this State has been sounded, and the subject of the approaching campaign has begun to be mooted. The Wilmington Journal is out in a strong article, upon the Presidential and gubernatorial canvass in this State, in which it calls upon the Democratic press for an expression of opinion. The Raleigh Standard responds, and presumes that of course there will be a National Convention, held at Baltimore, as heretofore, about the same time as the last one. It also takes it for granted that the Democracy of this State will be represented in such Convention. "The custom in this State," says that paper, "has been, for the Congressional Districts to appoint each a Delegate, and for the State Convention to appoint two for the State at large. This gives the State the number of votes in Convention which she has in the Electoral College; and this rule is observed by all the States, no State being entitled to more votes in Convention than she has in the finalact of voting for President and Vice President." It proceeds to say, that, although Gov. Reid is the unanimous choice of the Democracy, still a State Convention will doubtless be held. This Convention will then, of course, answer the double purpose of sending our two delegates (besides the District delegates) to the National Convention, and of making up our State ticket. The utility and necessity of such a Convention must be apparent to the most superficial observer. As the Standard says, we can lose nothing, but may gain a great deal, by meeting together and conferring as to the present and the future. A Convention brings old friends together, stimulates the lukewarm, rouses the lethargic, opens new views of public affairs, imparts a quicker life and a more auspicious direction to even the sanguine and the energetic, and, in a word, fuses and concentrates the power of a party upon the main points at issue in the pending contest. Let us have a Convention, by all means.

A State Covention should undoubtedly be held: and if so, it must meet previously to the Baltimore Convention—say the latter part of March or first of April. In order to effect this, primary meetings will have to be held during the ensuing three months to appoint delegates. And although we have time enough, it would be well enough to have our delegates appointed in good time—the period of the meeting of the Convention being left an open question for the decision of the party. We, therefore, respectfully suggest to our Democratic friends in this district the propriety of holding primary meetings at the approaching courts of their respective counties, for the purpose of appointing delegates to said Convention. We have not heard it suggested where the Convention will be held—but presume at Raleigh. The attention of our friends is called to the consideration of this matter, as meetings can only be gotten up during Court weeks, and as the Courts will sit once in the intervening time.

Elizabeth City Democratic Pioneer.

"No part of the constitution of this State shall be altered unless a bill to alter the same shall have been read three times in each house of the General Assembly, and agreed to by three-fifths of the whole number of members of each house respectively; nor shall any alteration take place until the bill so agreed to shall have been published six months previous to a new election of members to the General Assembly. If, after such publication, the alteration proposed by the preceding General Assembly, shall be agreed to in the first session thereafter by two-thirds of the whole representation in each house of the General Assembly, after the same shall have been read three times on three several days in each house, then the said General Assembly shall prescribe a mode by which the amendment or amendments may be submitted to the qualified voters of the House of Commons throughout the whole State; and if, upon comparing the votes given in the whole State, it shall appear that a majority of the voters have approved thereof, then, and not otherwise, the same shall become a part of the constitution."

We insert the above, which is the Second Clause of the First Section of the Fourth Article of the Constitution of North Corolina, because the time draws nigh, when in obedience to its requisitions, the bill providing for the abolition of the landed qualification of Senatorial electors is to be published for the consideration of the people. The bill passed the last General Assembly by the Constitutional vote of three-fifths. The Constitution requires that it shall be published six months before the next election for members of the General Assembly, and the bill itself, we believe, provides that such publication shall be made by advertisement in all the papers in the State. In order to become a part and parcel of the Constitution, it must receive a two-thirds vote in both Houses of the next General Assembly, and it behooves all its friends to be up and doing between now and the first Thursday in August. If once through the Legislature there can be no fear of its ratification by the people at the polls.

We do sincerely hope that this time, at least, every democrat, whether candidate or voter, will disabuse his mind of all mere prejudices or preconceived opinions upon this matter, and look at it fairly and fully, and not let any false pride of constituency lead him to mistake stubborn blindness for patriotic conservatism. The change is demanded by public opinion—by the example of all or nearly all the other States—by justice and by self-preservation; for the people of the East may rest assured that if this be not speedily granted, the agitation will take a wider scope, and instead of a measure of justice, which will not affect the balance of power between the different sections, a sweeping change may be insisted on, which will forever destroy the political equality of this.

We do not desire now to make a partisan appeal, but it does seem to us that in justice and fairness, Gov. Reid, who first set this ball in motion, should be allowed to superintend the consummation of a measure, which, in a great degree, owes its paternity to him. No Eastern man, whig or democrat, can have forgotten the attitude in favor of the abolition of the present basis, which Gov. Manly assumed in the last canvass, nor have failed to approve the position of Gov. Reid upon the same question. The Presidential canvass will, no doubt, warp men's minds from a clear understanding and appreciation of all these things, but not sufficiently, we believe, to endanger Gov. Reid's re-election, whatever the result of the November election may be.

THE STANDARD.

RALEIGH, N. C.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1852.

A PROCLAMATION,

By His Excellency DAVID S. REID, Governor of the State of North Carolina.

WHEREAS, three-fifths of the whole number of members of each House of the General Assembly did at the last session pass the following Act:

AN ACT to amend the Constitution of North-Carolina.

WHEREAS, The freehold qualification now required for the electors for members of the Senate conflicts with the fundamental principles of liberty; Therefore,

SEC. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, three-fifths of the whole number of members of each House concurring, that the second clause of third section of the first Article of the amended Constitution ratified by the people of North Carolina on the second Monday of November, A. D., 1835, be amended by striking out the words "and possessed of a freehold within the same district of fifty acres of land for six months next before and at the day of election," so that the said clause of said section shall read as follows: All free white men of the age of twenty-one years (except as is hereinafter declared) who have been inhabitants of any one district within the State twelve months immediately preceding the day of any election and shall have paid public taxes, shall be entitled to vote for a member of the Senate.

SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That the Governor of the State be, and he is hereby directed, to issue his Proclamation to the people of North Carolina, at least six months before the next election for members of the General Assembly, setting forth the purport of this Act and the amendment to the Constitution herein proposed, which Proclamation shall be accompanied by a true and perfect copy of the Act, authenticated by the certificate of the Secretary of State, and both the Proclamation and the copy of this Act, the Governor of the State shall cause to be published in all the newspapers of this State, and posted in the Court Houses of the respective Counties in this State, at least six months before the election of members to the next General Assembly.

Read three times and agreed to by three-fifths of the whole number of members of each House respectively, and ratified in General Assembly, this the 24th day of January, 1851.

J C. DOBBIN, S. H. C.
W. N. EDWARDS, S. S.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
Office of Secretary of State.

I WILLIAM HILL, Secretary of State, in and for the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and perfect copy of an Act of the General Assembly of this State, drawn off from the orginal on file in this office. Given under my hand, this 31st day of December, 1851.

WM. HILL, Sec'y of State.

AND WHEREAS, the said Act provides for amending the Constitution of the State of North Carolina so as to confer on every qualified voter for the House of Commons the right to vote also for the Senate;

Now, therefore, to the end that it may be made known that if the aforesaid amendment to the Constitution shall be agreed to by two thirds of the whole representation in each house of the next General Assembly, it will then be submitted to the people for ratification, I have issued this my Proclamation in conformity with the provisions of the before recited Act.

In testimony whereof, DAVID S. REID, Governor of the State of North Carolina, hath hereunto set his hand and caused the Great Seal of said State to be affixed.

Done at the City of Raleigh, on the thirty-first day of December, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and fifty one, and in the 76th year of our Independence.

By the Governor, DAVID S. REID.
THOMAS SETTLE, Jr. Private Sec'y.

Persons into whose hands this Proclamation may fall, will please see that a copy of it is posted up in the Court House of their respective Counties.

☞ All the newspapers in the State will publish the above not oftener than once a week till the next August election.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE.

We publish to-day the Proclamation of Gov. Reid, setting forth the Equal Suffrage Act before the people of the State, in accordance with the law of last session.

If this Act should be confirmed by two-thirds of the next Assembly, it will then be submitted to the people of the State for their approval or rejection at the polls.

This great measure is now in a fair way to become a part of the fundamental law—indeed, we look upon its passage at the next session, and its subsequent approval by the people, as certain.

Gov. Reid has had the proud privilege of originating it, of proclaiming it to the people over his own signature as a great question for their consideration and decision at the next August elections; and we have no doubt he will enjoy the satisfaction of seeing it, in due time, a part of the State Constitution.

But if, by possibility, it should be defeated at any time hereafter, we pledge ourselves to take it up and press it upon the public mind, until it triumphs. We hope the people will have an eye to this measure in bringing forward candidates for the next Assembly.

COMPTROLLER'S REPORT.

We commence to-day the poblication of the Report of the Comptroller of Public Accounts for this State, for the year ending the 31st October, 1851.

This is an important document, and will prove interesting to most of our readers; and we therefore offer no apology for the space it fills.

The public will perceive the order, system, and accuracy which characterize this document. It is presented, we think, in the plainest and most acceptable form; and this was not only due to the public, who have a right to a clear as well as full statement of their finances, but it was to have been expected at the hands of the present able and laborious Comptroller, Maj. Clarke.

We would suggest to our readers that it would be as well to lay this document aside for future reference.

The Washington Union of the 31st December says: "We learn that his excellency the Minister of France called yesterday at the Department of State, by the direction of his government, officially to announce that the President of the French republic had adopted a great measure of public safety; that the chief of the State owed to the six millions of Frenchmen who had elected him, and to the world which had received his nomination as a new era of tranquility for France, to preserve her from a revolution of which the world might feel the recoil; that, strong in his consciousness of patriotic intentions in repelling dangers which threaten France and Europe without end, he invited the nation to its free choice of a firm and durable government; and that he appealed to the suffrage of all in a moment so solemn to the country, and thought that this appeal ought to enlighten Europe and the world in regard to this matter."

Mr. Clingman, of this State, presided at the meeting of the members of the House of Representatives, called to take steps for giving a Congressional dinner to Kossuth. The proposed dinner is to be a splendid affair, and Kossuth is expected to make a great effort.

The Baltimore Sun states that it has been determined to hold the Democratic National Convention in Baltimore, on the third Tuesday of May next.

Archibald Dixon, Whig, has been elected to the United States Senate by the Legislature of Kentucky, in place of Henry Clay, resigned.

FIRE IN FAYETTEVILLE.

We regret to learn that Fayetteville has again been visited with a destructive fire. The last Carolinian says:

"This morning (Saturday) at a few minutes before 1 o'clock the carriage-making Establishment of Messrs. White and Raboteau, on Person street was discovered to be on fire. The alarm was instantly given, and the Engine Companies and the citizens generally rushed to the scene of action. The houses in the vicinity were mostly old wooden buildings and caught with great rapidity. In a few moments the whole row on Person street, between the fire proof brick house of A. A. McKethan, Esq. on the corner of Person and Dick streets, and the Carriage Manufactory of A. H. Whitfield, was enveloped in flames. By great exertions the progress of the flames westward was stayed at Dick street. The fire extended down Dick street as far as Mr. McKethan's large wooden warehouse which was blown up and the advance of the flames in that direction checked. Down Person street eastward the fire consumed everything as far as Mr. Whitfield's carriage manufactory, where, by great exertion and the circumstance that the wind was from the north-east, it was stayed.

The amount of property destroyed by this calamity is very considerable, and the loss falls with great weight upon the sufferers as there was very little insurance upon the property, owing to the great risk of insuring in so conbustible a neighborhood. The loss of Mr. McKethan as far as can be estimated, is about $8000, of which $3000 was insured. White & Raboteau are severe sufferers, their loss being estimated at about $3000; also James Sunday and the Messrs. McLauchlin, whose loss we have not heard estimated.

Had it not been for the public spirit of Mr. McKethan, who has erected in the last year or two several fire proof brick houses on the lot owned by him on Dick and Person streets, there can be no doubt but that a large portion of the town would have been laid in ruins. The sufferers by this calamity are some of our very best citizens, and they have the warm sympathy of the entire community.

We would respectfully suggest for the consideration of our fellow citizens the propriety of extending the ordinance in relation to fire-proof houses over the burnt district. Those who saw this morning the immense protection which even two or three fire proof houses afforded to property will be able to estimate the advantage which this extension would insure."

CONGRESS.

In the House of Representatives, on the 31st December, the debate was continued on the proposition to introduce Kossuth to that body. A number of motions were made and amendments offered, and speeches delivered; but no final action was had. Among other amendments which were offered, Mr. Venable proposed "that the Speaker be authorized to invite Louis Kossuth to a seat within the bar of the House." Mr. Venable explained his position with reference to M. Kossuth, and repelled the insinuation that he was opposed to the principles of freedom. He was in favor of receiving M. Kossuth with courtesy and kindness, but opposed to any action by Congress which might involve this country in European politics and European wars.

The House was also addressed by Messrs Harris, Bayley, Sweetser, Stanton, Giddings, and McMullan.

The Republic of January 1st, referring to the proceedings of the 31st, says:

"The House of Representatives sat yesterday from noon until half-past nine o'clock, and then adjourned over to Friday, without disposing of the matter in debate. The subject which occupied the attention of the House during its whole sitting was the resolution introduced on Tuesday by Mr. Cartter to provide for the introduction of KOSSUTH; and the proceedings present a rather amusing admixture of eloquence and frivolity. On the part of many members there was apparently a determination either to defeat it altogether, or to qualify it by a specific disclaimer of any intention to approve the call for interference in European affairs; and our report, therefore, exhibits a series of motions and counter-motions, each involving not a little time, and ultimately compelling the friends of the original resolution to consent to an adjournment. So KOSSUTH'S reception by the House remains an unsettled question.

The Senate was not in session yesterday."

A COUNTERFEIT.

We have been shown a counterfeit $20 bill of the Commercial Bank of Columbia, S. C., signed by J. O. Crawford, Cashier, and A. Blanding, President, bearing No. 248, and a likeness of Washington on the left hand side. It is dated the 28th September, 1844, and is made payable to C. Day.

The signatures are evidently engraved, and the date and name of the payee are in common writing ink. The bill looks pretty well, and is calculated to deceive. We have called attention to it to put the public on their guard. There may be some more bills of the same kind in circulation.

We see by the Washington Globe that our members of Congress are domiciled as follows, in and near Washington City:

Mr. Senator Mangum, Irving House.
Mr. Senator Badger, Willard's Hotel.
Mr. Ashe, at private House, Georgetown.
Mr. Daniel, do. do.
M. Clingman, at Dr. Holme's, between Pennsylvania Avenue and C. Street.
Mr. Caldwell, at Mrs. Adam's, Pennsylvania Avenue, between 6th and 7th Streets.
Messrs. Dockery and Morehead, at Mr. Spaulding's, C. Street.

LATE FROM CALIFORNIA.

The steamer Cherokee arrived at New York on the 1st instant, with the California mails. She brings about $2,000,000 in gold.

Large discoveries of gold have recently been made in California, of surpassing richness. The yield is increasing in all directions, and the miners are, of course, doing well.

An alarming state of feeling was beginning to prevail among the Indians, and they had attacked the whites and killed several. The government was making the necessary preparations to suppress the outbreaks and disturbances.

France appears to be in a deplorable condition. Louis Napoleon, with the army at his back, is thus far successful; but blood has been shed in nearly every part of the empire, and several of the Departments were in a state of siege. Many of the English papers express the opinion that Napoleon, Russia, and Austria have formed an alliance; and that their intention is to repress the spirit of freedom throughout Europe. An explosion may be expected soon. Europe is in a transition state, and blood will, in all probability, flow like water before tranquillity is restored.

The steamer Africa arrived at New York on the 2d instant, bringing one week's later intelligence from Europe.

France was generally calm, though there were disturbances in the Provinces. Napoleon appeared to have every thing his own way.

Cotton had declined one-eighth of a penny, and breadstuffs were firm at former prices.

THE MARKETS. There is no material change in the markets of Fayetteville and Wilmington, given in our last. Cotton, we suppose, will of course decline under the Africa's news, which is the latest from Europe.

Jenny Lind, it is said, will soon leave for Europe. Her mother is dead.

KOSSUTH—THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE.

The members of a Hebrew Society waited upon Kossuth in Baltimore, on the 27th, and presented him with $75, and a banner on which was painted three full length figures of Moses, Washington, and Kossuth—Moses representing Asia, Washington America, and Kossuth Europe. Two other small banners accompanied this, on one of which were the words in Hebrew and English, "Thy enemies shall come against thee one way, and flee before thee seven ways. In thee shall all the nations of the earth be blessed." A deputation of Protestant clergymen also called, and the orator of the deputation having alluded to Kossuth's knowledge of the English language, the great Hungarian replied as follows:

"Gov. Kossuth, in reply to this allusion, related the following curious fact: It is some twelve years ago, said he, that for my decided attachment to the right of a free Press, which had never been oppressed except by the arbitrary laws of my country. I was put in prison by the Austrian Government, where I laid three years; the first year they gave me nothing to read, and nothing to write with; in the second, they came and told me it would be granted to me to read something, but that I must not make my choice of any political books, but only an indifferent one. I pondered a little, and, knowing that a knowledge of languages was a key of sciences, I concluded that it perhaps might be useful to get some little knowledge of the English language; so I told them I would name some books which would not partake in the remotest way with politics. I asked for an English Grammar, Shakspere and Walker's Dictionary. The books were given and I sat down, without knowing a single word, and began to read the "Tempest," the first play of Shapspere, and worked for a fortnight to get through the first page. [Laughter.] I have a certain rule never to go on reading anything without perfectly understanding what I read. So I went on, and by and bye I became somewhat familiar with your language. Now I made that choice because I was forced not to choose a book of any political character. I chose books which had not the remotest connection with politics; but look what an instrument in the hands of Pravidence became my little knowledge of the English language, which I was obliged to learn because forbidden to meddle with politics. If I had come out of prison to England and America without this knowledge of your language, I never should have been able to express even my thanks for your generous sympathies; but now I am permitted not only to thank you, but to explain my humble views—to explain the principles which, under the protection of your Constitution afford freedom of thought and conscience, and the protection of that freedom even to every stranger in your country, and if my humble, unpretending explanation can somewhat contribute to conserve your generous sympathy in republican hearts towards the oppressed nations of Europe, what a weighty instrument of welfare and benefit of mankind, became, in the hands of Providence, that little knowledge which I acquired, while in prison, of your language. Kossuth went on to speak of the confidence he had in God from the fact that every time he was crushed down to the earth, when he got up again upon his feet, he was more strong and powerful than before—more competent for the fulfilment of his duties to his country and for humanity. Ten or twelve times they endeavored to crush him, and succeeded for the moment; but he never despaired, and subsequent events always proved that what God does is well done. Again he enforced the great principle of Christianity—brotherly love in respect to nations as well to individuals, would acknowledge that principle as a rule of conduct, and this nation was the one selected by Providence to lead on this reformation. That glory was reserved not a single individual, but to the United States to become the regenerators of international policy, basing it upon the brotherly love. [Applause.] Whatever might be the decision of this country now—whether willing or not willing to adopt that principle, it would sooner or later come to that point, when it would feel itself to be the Executive power on earth of the laws of nature and of nature's God.

Kossuth apologized for his inability to speak the English language as well as he could wish, and said that it was hard work for him to do it, notwithstanding the constant exercise he had—he was growing old, and old men did not easily advance in the knowledge of language—grammar was for children, scarcely for men. In conclusion he thanked them for their kind indulgence in listening to him so long with such attention, and though he was somewhat worn out both in body and mind, never would he be so worn out as not to remember with gratitude the generous manifestation of their approbation and sympathy."

GRAHAM, Alamance County,
January 3d, 1852.

To the Editor of the Standard:

SIR: As your readers no doubt feel a deep interest in the progress of the North Carolina Rail Road, I herewith send you the amount of work done in Alamance County up to this time:

JOHN TROLINGER.
Embankment,	27,285 cubic yards.
Excavation,	1,275 " "
Total,	28,560 " "
B. TROLINGER & MONTGOMERY.
Embankment,	24,590 cubic yards.
Excavation,	11,054 " "
Total,	35,644 " "
BENJAMIN HURDLE.
Embankment,	6,055 cubic yards.
Excavation,	6,157 " "
Masonry,	199 " "
Total,	12,411 " "

These contractors have also nearly cleared and grubbed their entire contracts. Besides this, Giles Mebane and Thos. Sellars, Esquires, have done five or six thousand yards—making a grand total in Alamance County of 82.615 yards. This speaks well for the energy and spirit of the new County of Alamance.

Yours, &c.

M. KOSSUTH. This distinguished stranger received visitors at his quarters, at Brown's Hotel, yesterday, from ten to about two o'clock. He afterwards visited the Secretary of State, (Mr. Webster,) with whom he dined—several friends being also present at the dinner party.

It is understood that M. Kssuth will continue to receive visitors during to-day.

The suite of M. Kossuth is composed of twenty-two persons; and they have twenty-one rooms at their service, including several parlors.

We learn that upwards of one hundred members of Congress have already subscribed to the proposed banquet in honor of Kossuth, the price of a ticket to which is five dollars.

Washington Republic of Friday last.

KOSSUTH. We understand that the Hungarian hero has consented to honor with his presence the festival to be prepared by the Jackson Democratic Association in honor of the battle of New Orleans, on the 8th of January next, should his engagements not call him from the city before that period. We are sure that the longer he remains with us, the more enthusiastic will be the appreciation of his great personal merits and the noble cause in whose behalf he so eloquently speaks.

AN ANCIENT WEAPON. The sabre worn by Count Pulzsky, at the Bar Festival in New York on Friday evening last, was made in 1592. It originally belonged to Sultan Mahmoud, was once owned by Napoleon, and finally passed into the possession of the family of Count Pulzsky.

AMERICAN PRISONERS IN SPAIN.

The Charleston Courier has been furnished the subjoined letter, received from our Minister at the Court of Madrid, which is published for the information of such as may have friends or relatives among the unfortunate members of the Lopez expedition who have been transported to Spain:

LEGATION OF UNITED STATES.
MADRID, Nov. 17, 1851.

MY DEAR SIR: You may rest assured that no proper effort will be wanting, on my part, to obtain the release of your brother-in-law, young E. Q. Bell, who was seduced into the ill-fated Lopez expedition.

The Government of the United States has also requested me to intercede in his behalf. But, even without such request, it will be my greatest happiness to be in any degree instrumental in restoring to his afflicted mother and family, his country and friends, one who, though in an evil moment led astray by older and more artful men, seems possessed of so many generous and redeeming qualities. I will endeavor to secure the liberation of all the prisoners—which I think would be best for Spain, and I know would be most agreeable to the people of the United States. They have already been punished enough for their folly, and Spain has had vengeance enough too. The unfortunate affair at New Orleans and elsewhere in the United States, in which Spain believes there has been great insult and outrage to her flag, and injuries to her subjects resident in the United States, have much complicated and added greatly to the difficulties of the release of these prisoners. If all cannot be soon discharged, I will then try for a few of the most meritorious and unfortunate of them, for whose release my special intercession has been asked; and I repeat to you that among them your brother, and the son of a most distressed mother, shall have a conspicious place in my efforts.

Yesterday I received a letter from the American Consul at Cadiz, informing me that the vessel Primera de Guatemala, in which young Bell is mentioned in the papers as having sailed, had arrived at that port after 66 days passage from Havana; and it was uncertain when he wrote where she would be ordered for quarantine, whether to Vigo or port Mahon, in the Mediterranean. I have taken all proper steps for communicating with the prisoners; and as soon as I know where they are destined will forward the letters to young Bell. I shall, too, do all in my power to alleviate their hard fate, and would see them in person but for the great distance of this city from the coast, the difficulty of internal communication in this peninsula, and the conviction that I can serve them better by remaining here, where my pressing duties occupy all my time.

Say to the disconsolate mother and family of the unfortunate young man to be of good cheer, and hope; and believe me, dear sir,

Very truly yours,
D. M. BARRINGER.

The most Wonderful Book in the World—Dr. Gregory's Letters on Animal Magnetism.

MR. EDITOR: I wonder that I do not hear every body talking of this book. I wonder that it has not produced greater sensation in our community, and that the Bookseller's can keep a single copy on hand after one reader has taken time to become acquainted with its contents.

Animal Magnetism, alias Mesmerism, is regarded by many as among the humbugs of this excitable age; and I so regarded it, until ocular and auricular evidence, addressed to my own senses and inward consciousness, made doubt no longer possible, of the reality of these two things: 1st. that one human being has the power, by a certain influence of look and gesture and conduct, to throw another into a certain state, sometimes waking sometimes asleep, during which the magnetiser's sensations and conceptions are transferred to his subject and the latter has lost his own; so that he feels, sees, hears, smells, tastes, knows, all that his magnetiser does. All this has been long before the public; but the sober part of the public, with a few exceptions, have refused to take interest in the matter, regarding it as some cheat or imposture. This undoubtedly has been sustained and justified by the professors of this art, or science, or mystery, (whatever you may choose to call it) because they travelled through the country, exhibiting the phenomena of Animal Magnetism as a show, for money. This was calculated to beget the suspicion that it was merely another species of jugglery or legerdemain.

The present book, however, carries on its front so respectable authority, and comes from so unsuspicious a source, as to bespeak attention and a fair hearing, from the most scientific, and cool, and judicious; and reveals innumerable wonders, showing that this is a law of nature, hitherto neglected and despised, as magic and witchcraft, but now standing on as sure grounds of rigid scientific examination, and unquestionable testimony, as the wonders of freno-magnetism, galvanism, gravitation, electricity, or other admitted laws of nature. And I promise all who will read it that they will find it a book revealing some of the most astonishing facts respecting the nature, powers and capabilities of the human soul,—that they will see satisfactory explanations of the causes of the failures which have brought this subject into discredit,—that it will stagger if not overthrow their unbelief; and finally, that they will have their moral and religious fears removed as to the dangerous nature of this new revelation. Indeed, there is reason for believing that it may lead to the most astonishing advances in psychology, and carry religious and moral truth to a more exalted pitch by showing the soul's immaterial nature, its independence of time and place and its prodigious capacities of knowledge and bliss.

Perhaps I may give a more extended review of this work at another time. It is to be had at Pomeroy's.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.]

WASHINGTON, December 31.

The Secretary of State this morning presented M. Kossuth and suite to the President.

The Secretary and Messrs. Shields and Seward, of the Senate committee, accompanied by M. Kossuth to the Executive Mansion.

The interview was quite private—no other persons than those named and Mr. Hall, Postmaster General, being present.

M. Kossuth apppeared in his usual costume—short black velvet frock, round hat, with black ostrich plume, and dress sword. His military suite were in full uniform.

The Secretary presented M. Kossuth, who addressed a few remarks to the President, expressive of his deep sense of the obligation to this Government and country, for the sympathy and relief extended towards himself and his companies in exile. He spoke also, it is said, in affecting terms, of the misfortunes of his country.

The President spoke with great courtesy and kindness in reply, but at the same time in such a manner as to excite no delusive expectations in the mind of the illustrious patriot. It is believed that the President declared what he considered to be the settled policy of this country in regard to foreign nations, and that he left no doubt in the mind of M. Kossuth as to his own wish to adhere to that poiicy.

I think you may safely take it for granted that this was the substance of what passed between the President and M. Kossuth.

The gentlemen composing M. Kossuth's suite were next presented, and, after this, an hour was passed in conversation, chiefly in regard to the present condition of Hungary.

It was remarked by some gentlemen who, after the interview, paid their respects to M. Kossuth at his quarters, that his countenance wore an appearance of sadness not usual to him. They suggested that probably something had fallen from the President, at the interview, which had tended to confirm M. Kossuth in his doubt as to any interposition, by this government, in the direction and for the purpose that he has proposed.

His closing remarks to the Jackson Association, yesterday imply his doubt on this subject, and express his resolution to abate not, in consequence of it, one jot of heart or hope or effort in his noble cause.

The intellectual and striking countenance of Kossuth, his deportment, his voice and manner, are all calculated to make a deep impression here and every where.

LIFE IS SWEET.

"O, life is sweet!" said a merry child,
"And I love, I love to roam
In the meadows green, 'neath the sky serene;
O! the world is a fairy home.
There are trees hung thick with blosoms fair,
And flowers gay and bright;
There's the moon's clear ray, and the sunlit day;
O! the world is a world of light!"

"O! life is sweet!" said a gallant youth,
As he conned the storied page,
And he ponderred on the days by-gone,
And the fame of a former age.
There was hope in his bright and beaming eyes,
And he longed for riper years;
He clung to life—he dared its strife—
He felt no dread nor fears.

"O! life is sweet!" came merrily
From the lips of a fair young bride;
And a happy smile she gave the while,
To the dear one by her side,
"O! life is sweet! for we will live
Our constancy to prove—
Thy sorrows mine, my trials thine—
Our solace in our love."

"O! life is sweet!" said a mother fond,
As she gazed on her helpless child,
And closer pressed to her gladdened breast
Her babe, who unconcious smiled.
"My life shall be for thee, my child,
Pure, guiltless, as thou art;
And who shall dare my soul to tear
From the tie that forms, apart!"

"O! life is sweet!" said an aged sire,
Whose eye was sunk and dim:
His form was bent, his strength was spent,
Could life be sweet to him?
O, yes! for round the old man's chair
His children's children clung,
And each dear face and warm embrace
Made life seem ever young.

Thus life is sweet, from early youth
To weak, enfeebled age,
Love twines with life, through care and strife,
In every varied stage.
And though, perchance, the path is rough,
And dark the sky above,
In every state there's something yet,
To live for and to love.

A BEAUTIFUL AND TOUCHING INCIDENT. The Manchester (N. H.) Mirror says that a few Sundays since, while the Rev. Mr. Davis, freewill baptist of that city, was engaged in the service of baptizing a young female convert, "there came a beautiful dove hovering over the congregation and actually lit on the ice, and walked around but a little distance from the administrator and the candidate. At the same moment the minister remarked, "And the Spirit rested on him in the shape of a dove." It was one of the most beautiful and touching incidents we ever witnessed in the administraiton of a religious rite. Indeed, it seemed to call up to the minds of christians the time when the adorable Redeemer came up out of Jordan, and God set his seal to this sacred rite."

MRS. CLAY, it is stated, was requested by her husband, before he left home, not to come over the mountains, whatever might be his state of health. She is an old lady, upwards of 70, and the head of a domestic establishment numbering 60 persons.

The public need fear no imposition, as there are now some 280 Machines running in N. C.; and I wish to offer no other references than the gentlemen who are using them, whose expectations have been more than realized in their performance. It not only thoroughly cleanses the Wheat of smut, but also purifies it of all other substances, almost to perfection. It takes up but 4 feet square in the Mill, and requires but little power. It is warranted for five years against breaking or wearing out, and also to retain its cleaning qualities for that time.

There are a number of these Machines through which 100,000 bushels of Wheat have been cleaned, and they have never been out of order one day.

There was awarded to it the Premium at the Maryland State Fair, and a Premium with a Silver Medal, at the Fair of the Maryland Institute, at Baltimore, last Fall.

A Turning Lathe and Saw moved by horse power; a new Pump on the premises. Shelter for vehicles, and in a word all the improvements and conveniences found in the best Establishments either North or South.

Immediately opposite, are the Dwelling House and Ware House. The Dwelling-house is a fine two story building, with an acre lot attached, having all necessary out houses and conveniences required by a family. The situation is elevated, healthy and pleasant. The position of Greenville, situated as it is in the midst of the wealthiest and most fertile portion of the State,—connected with Raleigh and the west by a Plank Road, with the east and the seaboard by a river always open to Steamboat navigation—besides the high character of the Establishment, for the durability and elegance of its work, combine with the growing importance of the place to render it the most appropriate point in Eastern Carolina for a Carriage Manufactory.
